How do I apply?

1. Attend a mandatory Light Fellowship information session
2. Review our eligibility requirements
3. Start an application through the Yale Student Grants Database
4. (Optional) Meet with the Light Fellowship Staff
5. Complete all required application items
   - Remember to request your language evaluation and letter of recommendation at least three weeks in advance of the relevant deadline. You are responsible for ensuring your recommender(s) submit their letter by the deadline.
   - If you are a transfer, graduate school, or professional school student, remember to request all required transcripts as soon as possible
6. Apply to language program(s) at Light Fellowship Approved Sites Abroad – each program has a different timeline and application requirements, which may include separate letter(s) of recommendation. You may not need to apply before the Light Fellowship deadlines, but you must obtain admission to at least one Light-approved program in order to receive the Fellowship.
7. (Optional) Apply for credit for Light Fellowship study through the Study Abroad office: http://studyabroad.yale.edu/

How do I apply to Light approved programs?

Remember: You must separately apply and be admitted to a program at an Approved Site Abroad in order to receive the Fellowship.

1. Read about the programs on our website: http://light.yale.edu/approved-sites-abroad
2. Read Fellows’ blogs and program reports (click “Fellows’ Bulletin Board” on each program page)
3. Learn more about the programs, application timeline, and required materials on each program’s website (click “Contact this Program”)
4. Discuss program options with language instructors, faculty, and Light Fellowship staff
5. Attend events hosted by the Student Advisory Committee
6. Let your language evaluator and recommenders know which programs you plan on applying to that will require additional recommendations or evaluations
7. We recommend you apply to at least your top choice program and one backup program
